

Hannah came to the Career Pathways Program seeking personal and professional growth. After carefully considering the available trainings, she chose the Certified Nurse Assistant (CNA) and Home Health Aide (HHA) courses offered by The Fieldstone School in Worcester.

“I’ve always had a passion to help people and I saw the CNA and HHA programs as a way to realize both my personal passion and my professional aspirations.” After completing the trainings on schedule and forming good relationships with classmates, instructors, and residents, Hannah passed her state exam and earned her professional certifications. She subsequently accepted a job in Marlboro, MA as a Home Health Aide.
